Places Visited

Portsmouth's Historic Dockyard

HMS Victory: HMS Victory is the Royal Navy's most famous warship. Best known for her role in the Battle of Trafalgar, the Victory currently has a dual role as the Flagship of the First Sea Lord and as a living museum to the Georgian Navy. Highlights of your visit will include access to: the Great Cabin, where the Battle of Trafalgar was planned, the spot where Nelson died and the once crowded decks where over 800 men lived, worked and fought. HMS Victory is currently undergoing a period of transformation and this provides a rare opportunity to see HMS Victory undergoing such extreme maintenance.

HMS Warrior: HMS Warrior, launched in 1860, was the pride of Queen Victoria's fleet. Powered by both steam and sail, she was Britain's first iron-hulled, armoured warship and the largest, fastest and most powerful ship of her day. During your visit you will experience: the world's first iron-hulled, armoured warship powered by steam as well as sail, the only surviving member of Queen Victoria's Black Battle Fleet, the vast decks giving a glimpse of life as a Victorian sailor on board a 19th century warship.

National Museum of the Royal Navy

This is one of the leading maritime museums in the country. Three exhibition galleries explore how the Royal Navy helped shape the modern world through stories of courage and determination. Treasures and artefacts from the past 350 years will be accessible to you including: the Life Mask taken from Nelson's face in 1800, the first Victoria Cross ever awarded in 1856, and a World War II Enigma Machine which helped win the Battle of the Atlantic.

Mary Rose Museum

Also located in the historic dockyards, the Mary Rose museum offers a unique insight into Tudor life and the role of the momentous Mary Rose. When she was raised from the seabed in 1982, the Mary Rose captured the world's imagination and is the only sixteenth century warship on display anywhere in the world. The museum was built around her and reunites her with many of her 19,000 artefacts - from personal belongings such as wooden bowls, leather shoes, musical instruments and nit combs, to ship's objects such as longbows and two tonne guns.

Fort Nelson

Fort Nelson is strategically positioned on top of Portsdown Hill, with panoramic views across the Meon Valley and Portsmouth Harbour. Home to the UK's national collection of arms and armour, the museum's displays trace the development of artillery from pre-gunpowder siege machines to modern-day super guns, and there are over 350 big guns on display. A historic monument, restored to how it would have been in the 1890s, visitors can access most areas of the fortifications and see how the Fort would have operated in its heyday.

Spinnaker Tower

An amazing view emerges as you race to the 110-metre high viewing platform of the Spinnaker Tower in just 30 seconds at a speed of 4 metres per second. From here you get a wonderful view of up to 23 miles across to the Isle of Wight and see the layout for the Battle of the Solent during which the Mary Rose capsized and sank in 1545.

Southsea Castle

Built on the waterfront in 1544, Southsea Castle is one of Henry VIII's Device Forts and is regarded as the most ambitious scheme of coastal defence since Roman times. The castle was built to guard the eastern entrance to the Solent and the entrance to Portsmouth Harbour. It is reported that Henry VIII watched his flagship Mary Rose sink in the Battle of the Solent in 1545 and is a site of huge historical and architectural significance.

Your Tour Host/Speaker

Christopher Dobbs will be your tour lecturer during the trip. After studying archaeology at Cambridge University, Christopher has had an exciting career in the field of marine archaeology and will be on hand to share his in-depth knowledge and experience. Head of Interpretation at the Mary Rose Trust and part of the team that excavated and then salvaged the Mary Rose in 1982, Christopher will deliver two fascinating lectures to enhance your understanding of this fascinating subject and exciting period of history and introduce you to the museum.

Christopher will give two lectures during the tour:

'Diving on the Mary Rose'

Christopher's after-dinner talk gives a unique insight into the project – a first-hand account of what it was like diving on the wreck of the Mary Rose – illustrated by many of his own photographs.
