Places Visited

The Three Choirs Festival, held every year since the early eighteenth century, and rotating between the three great cathedral cities of Worcester, Hereford and Gloucester, is one of the world's oldest classical choral music festivals. This heritage has long established the Festival as a firm fixture in the British music calendar and a must-visit for lovers of the great choral works from across the world. In 2019 the festival is based in Gloucester and the programme on this itinerary includes the opening service, an evening concert to hear Berlioz's La Damnation of Faust featuring Susan Bickley, Peter Hoare, Christopher Purves, and David Ireland. You will also have the opportunity to enjoy Madeleine Mitchell violin and Clare Hammond piano reviving a trio of unpublished works by famed Gloucestershire composer Ivor Gurney and gives us a rare chance to hear Grace Williams' Lyrical Sonata, alongside a varied selection of works written specially for Madeleine, including the world premiere of a lively new suite by Robert Saxton.

Berkeley Castle

The Berkeley Family are the only English family still in existence in England that can trace its ancestors from father to son back to Saxon times. The Castle is the oldest building in the country to be inhabited by the same family who built it. For centuries, the Berkeleys were close to the throne, able administrators and fighters who supported their king or queen (as long as they could), backed the winning side, and married well. The Castle, naturally enough, is full of stories. The contents of the castle have been chosen and collected by members of the Berkeley family throughout the centuries and reflect the history of their home. Located within 6,000 acres, the castle also has a medieval deer park.
