Dining

Although most of the meals are included in this holiday, there will be the occasion to eat out at other times when you will have the opportunity to choose for yourselves some of the local cuisine.

The standard of food in Greece is excellent and offers a remarkable variety of freshly prepared and very tasty dishes, many of which use locally grown products and locally produced olive oil.

In Greece, and particularly in Crete, the locals nearly always eat 'Mezedes' style. This generally means ordering several dishes, starters and/or main plates, whatever takes your fancy, to put in the middle of the table for all to share. It's a very sociable way to eat and a great way of tasting lots of different dishes! Don't be shy in the amount you order, or if you only find yourselves ordering starters – any combination is acceptable.

When ordering fish in Crete you will find the price on the menu relates to a cost per kilo. Don't be put off by this. You are expected to go into the kitchen, choose a fish and then it will be weighed in front of you, so you know what you will pay.

Nearly all tavernas sell their own 'open' wine, known as village wine. It is something of an acquired taste, but it goes well with the local food. The Greeks are very proud of their wine and nearly all Cretans make their own. The white is usually always very drinkable, but the red varies quite a lot. If you are unsure you can always ask if you can try the wine before you agree to it. Prices of local 'village' wine are usually between 3 and 5 euros per half litre.

Local drinks are ouzo, raki, metaxa and, of course, Greek wine. Raki is the local firewater! This is distilled from the residue of the grapes after making wine. You will probably find you come across this whether you want to or not, as it is very often served, complimentary, at the end of a meal.

Meals included in your holiday

Breakfast is provided daily at the hotel and the 5 lunches will be at local tavernas, usually at the end of the day's walk, except for one day when a packed lunch will be provided. Dinner each night will be at The Cellar Taverna situated on Kissamos sea front promenade, except for one evening, when dinner will be in Chania town, and the free day when dinner is not included.

Crete

Crete is a fascinating destination for a cultural and historic tour with its wealth of sights reflecting its ancient Minoan culture that dates back some 3,000 years, but it is also an island with a fantastic nature and some wonderful and diverse scenery; picturesque harbours, fertile regions of fruit trees, silver green olive groves, majestic mountains and superb coastlines; these are just some of what you will encounter during this holiday.

Kissamos

This tour is based at Kissamos (also known as Kastelli), a small seaside town whose focus is on local business and agriculture with just a small influence of tourism. The town is situated along a beautiful bay framed by the twin peninsulas of Gramvousa and Rodopos and is ideally situated for exploring the little developed far west corner of this beautiful island.

A little information on the tour walks:

Polyrinnia

7km south of Kissamos are the ruins of Polyrinnia. The city was founded by the Dorians in the 6th century. When the Romans ruled over Crete they fortified the city of Polyrinnia and it became the administrative centre of western Crete. The Venetians also used the fortified city as a fortress during later years, so the ruins stretch back some time with some very interesting architecture.

Our walk to Polyrinnia will include an informative and historical tour through the picturesque village after which we walk up to its ancient archaeological site. After taking in the panoramic views over the Bay of Kissamos and the White Mountains we descend through olive groves to Kastelli where a welcome lunch awaits.

Villages of Milia and Topolia

Today's walk takes in local villages allowing us to see a continuing traditional way of life. Passing through a small hamlet with an abundance of trees — walnut, orange, lemon, cherry, and of course olive, we follow a track that takes us to the traditional village of Milia where original stone houses have been beautifully renovated. After a stop for refreshments we follow a track high up in the hills with splendid views to the mountains and the gorge of Topolia before descending for lunch.

Coastal Crete - Falassarna

Today's walk begins in the tiny village of Kaliviani, situated on the edge of the Gramvousa Peninsula. The beauty of the village can be attributed to its wonderful old stone houses and to the many flowers that blossom in every yard. Tradition is alive in Kaliviani, since even today the houses are built the traditional way. There is an opportunity to visit a lovely church before we head to one of the loveliest beaches on Crete, Falassarna. Beautiful white sand bays notch the coast of Falassarna, interspersed with rock pools and sheltered shallows. The walk encompasses the beautiful scenery of this far west corner of Crete. At the end of the walk there is an opportunity to visit the ruins of the ancient city and harbour of Falassarna and enjoy a swim in the crystal clear waters.

Mountains and Gorges - Deliana

Today's walk is beautifully picturesque along paths situated high amongst the mountains that lead to a gentle gorge, resplendent with flora and fauna. Birds of prey may be spotted wheeling overhead. The end of the walk is at the village of Deliana where there is a fascinating church to visit before lunch. The church is beautiful both on the outside and on the inside where there are magnificent frescoes on its walls.

Sirikari - Polyrinnia

The walk begins high in the hills where we enjoy panoramic views over the bay of Kissamos. We pass through the peaceful gorge of Sirikari where vultures live amongst the rock face. There is time for a welcome rest stop at a beautiful old Venetian stone bridge under the shade of Plane trees before ascending to Polyrinnia where we will enjoy lunch before returning to our hotel.

Chania

One evening meal will be enjoyed at a taverna in the Venetian harbour town of Chania. Set against a spectacular backdrop of majestic mountains and aquamarine seas, Chania is one of Crete's most alluring towns. Its troubled history of occupation by Romans, Byzantines, Venetians, Genoese, Turks and Egyptians has left a rich architectural heritage, particularly in the old Venetian quarter around the harbour. Highlights of this charming and quaint district include the magnificent harbour, Naval Museum, Mosque of the Janissaries and the covered market that sells an excellent variety of local produce.

Your evening visit here may entice you to return on your free day to explore the town further.

Practical Information

We recommend you bring the following items:

1 light waterproof jacket

1 good size day sack

1 pair of light trousers (for prickly undergrowth)

1 water bottle (although you can buy water cheaply locally)

A small torch

Personal first aid kit

Sun hat

Sun cream

Insect repellent

1 fleece or warm layer for cold in altitude or chilly evenings

T-shirts/layers so you can adjust to changing early/late season weather conditions

A walking stick or ski sticks can be very useful for Cretan terrain

Although none of the walking paths are particularly difficult you will encounter uneven and sometimes rocky terrain, so it is essential to have comfortable, well-fitting and protective footwear. It is advisable that boots are ankle high to provide good ankle support. Vibram soles tend to have better grip. It is always advisable to break in your boots before your holiday. Try two pairs of socks, one thin pair close to the skin, and a thicker outer sock.

Bring a foot care kit, especially useful is moleskin and second skin, compeed is also very good for blisters.

Climate – The weather in Greece at this time of year is likely to be pleasant, but evenings can be quite cool and there is the chance of the odd shower. Our best advice is to come prepared. Layers are useful as is a light rain jacket.

Time – GMT +3 hours (Summer time Apr-Oct); GMT + 2 (Standard time Nov-Mar). This means, summer or winter, Greece is 2 hours ahead of the UK

Language – Greek Religion – Greek Orthodox

Currency — Euro. €1 = 100 cents. Notes are in denominations of €500, 200, 100, 50, 20, 10 and 5. Coins are in denominations of €2 and 1, and 50, 20, 10, 5, 2 and 1 cents.

Banks – Cashpoints compatible with international banking networks are located in all towns and cities, as well as airports and other spots. Those banks that still exchange foreign currencies into local money will always charge a transaction fee, so withdrawing money from an ATM usually represents the most logical means of obtaining euros other than bringing euros with you from the UK.

Banks in Crete are open Monday to Friday 8am – 2pm. ATM machines are available in Kissamos and can be accessed on foot from your accommodation. You can use a UK debit card, using the same pin number you use in the UK, to withdrawn cash. The instructions are in English. Just look for signs on ATM's for Delta or Cirrus.

Credit cards – Crete is very much a cash society, so credit cards are not widely accepted, however more places are accepting these nowadays, but it is best to check first in restaurants and shops that they accept credit cards, if you wish to pay by card. Varying amounts of commission can be charged for credit card payments and you may like to check these with your credit card supplier before you travel.

Electricity – 220 volt, two-pin continental plug.

Drinking water — Tap water is safe to drink although you should check at the hotel if the bathroom water is safe to drink as it could be tank water rather than mains water. Bottled water is readily available to buy in the local shops and very reasonable priced.

Shopping - There are plenty of mini-markets scattered throughout Kissamos for any basic supplies you might need. The mini-markets are usually open from early in the morning until late in the evening. Cretan olive oil, olives and local honey are all excellent produce if you are interested in taking a little bit of Crete home with you. There are also excellent herbs and mountain tea. You may see people advertising honey on the side of the road or in Kafenions when you are out and about, this will usually be their own home produce and is often the best and most pure you can buy.

English newspapers – These can usually be found in various outlets in the town.

Telephones/mobiles – You should be able to use your mobile phone in Greece, depending on your operator and contract. If you are calling the UK from a mobile in Greece, you will need to prefix the number with the international dialling code 0044.

Tipping –To keep our tours affordable, we do not increase the tour price by adding in tips. However, in the tourism industry, there is a certain level of expectation that, when receiving a good service, one does award with a tip. Tour Managers, Representatives, Guides and Drivers appreciate a tip at the end of their involvement with the tour, but this is entirely at your discretion. We believe in allowing you to tip according to your level of satisfaction with their services.

General Health Advice

We suggest you take a good supply of your own individual medicines with you and always keep some in your hand luggage in case you get delayed or your luggage goes astray. General-purpose supplies for blisters, bites, stings, or scratches, and your usual medication for headaches, or stomach upsets are always recommended. Oral rehydration sachets are excellent for topping up salt and glucose levels.

Visit the NHS Fit for Travel website for more generally information specific to the country you are visiting – www.fitfortravel.nhs.uk

Doctor/Dentist/Chemist

Please talk to your tour manager if you are feeling unwell and they will organise for you to see a Doctor if necessary. There is normally a charge of about 60 Euros for calling out a doctor (or more, depending on the distance the doctor must travel) and there is also a charge to visit a Doctor.

Keep any receipts for insurance claims.

Hospital

The nearest hospital is in Chania. Your tour manager/hotel reception will assist if you need to visit a hospital during your stay.

Keep any receipts for insurance claims.

Inoculations

No compulsory vaccinations are required for travel in Greece.

Pharmacies

Pharmacies throughout Greece are generally well-stocked and have knowledgeable staff who, more often than not, will speak good English. Pharmacists will often be able to give advice and medicine for minor ailments. Pharmacies are open Monday to Friday but not on Saturdays.

European Health Insurance Card (EHIC)

It is essential to carry an EHIC card with you as this will assist you if you are admitted to a hospital in Greece.

The EHIC replaced the old E111 in 2006. Valid in all EEA countries, the card lets you get state healthcare at a reduced cost or sometimes for free. It will cover you for treatment that is needed to allow you to continue your stay until your planned return. It also covers the treatment of pre-existing medical conditions.

Please note that the EHIC is not an alternative to travel insurance. It will not cover any private medical healthcare or costs such as being flown back to the UK or lost or stolen property. Therefore, it is important to have both an EHIC and a valid private travel insurance policy. It is also important to note that each country's healthcare system is slightly different, so the EHIC might not cover everything that would be generally free on the NHS.

We would advise ensuring that your travel insurance has full health cover in the event that the EHIC becomes invalid following the end of the transition period in December 2020.

For more information about the EHIC please visit: https://www.ehic.org.uk
